Walla Walla University’s Edward F. Cross School of Engineering seeks applications for a full-time, tenure-track faculty position in electrical or computer engineering beginning January 1, 2021.

The ideal candidate will be committed to excellence in teaching, advising, and mentoring students. Other responsibilities include academic advising and service on university-wide committees. The successful candidate will be a dedicated Seventh-day Adventist Christian committed to integrating their faith with teaching and scholarship, and should also bring real-world experiences to the learning environment. Evidence should be provided of collaborative work, scholarly activity, and a commitment to Christian higher education.

Walla Walla University is a Seventh-day Adventist teaching university of approximately 1800 students, located in southeastern Washington state. The School of Engineering’s ABET accredited program enjoys an excellent reputation among employers and graduate schools. The Walla Walla Valley offers an attractive living environment in a culturally rich rural and small town setting. WWU is a religiously qualified employer; faculty and staff are recruited with specific attention to their active membership in the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Review of applications will begin April 15, 2020 and be on-going until the position is filled.

Qualifications:
- A doctorate with industry and/or teaching experience is preferred. Strong candidates with a master’s degree and teaching or professional experience will also be considered.
- Ability to teach fundamental undergraduate analysis and design courses such as circuit analysis or computer architecture.
- Interest in growing program expertise in electrical, computer, and/or bio engineering topics including (but not limited to) power and energy systems; networking, mobile and distributed computing; robotics and artificial intelligence
- Ability to mentor students through major design projects, offering creative solutions
- Commitment to a team-oriented faculty and desire to emphasize quality teaching, mentoring, and hands-on applications in a Christian environment.

Apply: Qualified candidates are asked to complete an application online at http://jobs.wallawalla.edu and include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a statement of their teaching philosophy with the online application. Also, have three letters of reference sent to brian.roth@wallawalla.edu.
