Young Life

Young Life doesn’t start with a program. It starts with adults who are concerned enough about kids to go to them, on their turf and in their culture, building bridges of authentic friendship. These relationships don’t happen overnight — they take time, patience, trust and consistency.

Level of Commitment: varies based on project

This program gives you a chance to form lasting relationships with teenagers in the Walla Walla area. You would attend a weekly meeting and spend time throughout the week getting to know teens in Younglife better through joining them for lunch at their school, going to their games, etc..

Younglife has 7 different ministries here, most of them are centered around schools. Your job would be to build relationships with the kids, earn their trust and eventually share your faith.
